1.05pm - 1.50pm	Naloxone - all you need to know The changing schedule of Naloxone from prescription only to OTC status in Australia has drawn international attention and raised awareness locally of the lifesaving potential of the opioid blocker. Providing more people with confidence in its administration, efficacy and safety is the new challenge that faces health professionals in this country. Speaker: Dr Marianne Jauncey, Medical Director, Uniting Sydney Medically Supervised Injecting Centre
1.50pm - 2.35pm	Responding to codeine dependence after the change As we examine the complex trajectories of problematic prescription and over-the-counter drug use we must consider the impact of the codeine schedule change. Improving clinical responses to prescription and over-the-counter drug problems is important if we are to reduce the negative impact on the patient and community. Evidence-based response treatments are available, yet those affected by dependence are reluctant to seek help, highlighting a critical role for pharmacists at the coal face. Speaker: Dr Suzanne Nielsen, Senior Research Fellow, University of New South Wales
2.35pm - 2.50pm	AFTERNOON TEA
2.50pm - 3.35pm	Addiction and the GP This session will explore the challenging role of the GP in treating addiction in the community, and how pharmacy can better liaise with GPs to produce better outcomes. Treating addiction still remains the focus area of too few practitioners in both professions, and as a result treatment options for patients are compromised. Efforts must aim to improve these circumstances. Speaker: Dr Hester Wilson, Staff Specialist in Addiction, The Langton Centre
3.35pm - 4.25pm	'Fighting The Dragon With Luck' This uplifting documentary about recovering heroin addicts who attend a local community pharmacy is seen through the eyes of six former addicts. The documentary retraces stories of hopeless addiction, survival, broken dreams, a new hope and eventual recovery. Facilitator: Angelo Pricolo, Community Pharmacist & National Councillor, The Pharmacy Guild of Australia

4.25pm - 5.00pm	Q&A Panel Session - Dr Marianne Jauncey, Dr Suzanne Nielsen, Angelo Pricolo, Dr Hester Wilson
5.00pm - 7.00pm	WELCOME RECEPTION - Zeta Bar, Hilton Sydney Come and network with colleagues and suppliers in a relaxed environment and enjoy canapes and drinks before the conference officially commences the following morning.
